AGENCY STAFF WORKSHOP ON CALIFORNIA'S NONPOINT SOURCE (NPS)
POLLUTION CONTROL PROGRAM

The State Water Resources Control Board (SWRCB) and California Coastal Commission (CCC) are holding a workshop to discuss interagency coordination on California's NPS Pollution Control Program and to obtain additional input on the Public Draft NPS Plan: Volume I: Nonpoint Source Program Strategy and Implementation: 1998-2013 and Volume II: California Management Measures for Polluted Runoff (CAMMPR). The workshop will be held:

Library and Courts Building
914 Capitol Mall, Room 500
Sacramento, California

Tuesday, July 13, 1999
1:30 PM to 4:30 PM

An administrative draft of the Plan was sent to you for comments on June 14, 1999, and the Public Draft was released on July 2, 1999. Copies of the Public Draft will be mailed to you upon its release. The Plan will also be available on the Internet at the following websites:

SWRCB NPS website: <http://www.swrcb.ca.gov/nps/npshome.html>

CCC home page: <http://ceres.ca.gov/coastalcomm>.

Finding solutions to NPS pollution poses unique challenges. While increased use of existing regulatory authorities can help us address certain categories of NPS pollution, to effectively address NPS pollution in California we will need to rely on a wide range of tools, activities, and authorities. In particular, these efforts need to focus on better integration and coordination at the State level and collaborative approaches to encourage community-based stewardship.

If you have any questions, please call Steve Fagundes, SWRCB, at 916/657-0914 or Cy Oggins, CCC, at 415/904-5249.

Sincerely,

Ken Harris, Chief
